20010

THE

BIBLICAL REPOSITORY.

GENERAL LIBRARY UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

CONDUCTED BY

EDWARD ROBINSON

Professor Extraordinary in the Theological Seminary at Andover.

VOLUME FIRST.

Nos. I—IV.

ANDOVER:

FLAGG & GOULD, PUBLISHERS AND PRINTERS.

Codman Press.

1831.

CONTENTS OF VOL. I.

NO. I.

	Page.
ART. I. THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION IN GERMANY.—By the Editor
Introduction	1
Part I. German Universities	7
ART. II. INTERPRETATION OF PSALM XVI.—By Prof. Stuart.
Introductory Observations	51
Translation	75
Commentary	76
ART. III. GRAMMATICO-HISTORICAL INTERPRETATION OF THE SCRIPTURES.—By Prof. Hahn, of Leipsic. Translated by the Editor
Introductory Notices	111
Hahn on Interpretation	117
ART. IV. REMARKS ON HAHN'S DEFINITION OF INTERPRETATION, AND SOME TOPICS CONNECTED WITH IT.—By Prof. Stuart	139
ART. V. GRAMMATICAL ACCURACY OF THE WRITERS OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.—By Prof. Tittmann, of Leipsic. Translated by the Editor	160
ART. VI. THEOLOGICAL LITERATURE AND EDUCATION IN ITALY. By Prof. Tholuck, of Halle. Transl. by the Editor	177
ART. VII. LITERARY NOTICES.—By the Editor.
I. Literature of the Old Testament	186
II. Literature of the N. Testament	190
III. Systematic Theology	193
IV. Oriental Literature	194

NO. II.

ART. I. THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION IN GERMANY.—By the Editor.
Part II. Course of Study at the Universities	201
ART. II. CREED OF ARMINIUS, WITH A SKETCH OF HIS LIFE AND TIMES.—By Prof. Stuart.
Introductory Observations	226
Sketch of Arminius and his Times	229
Creed of Arminius	263
ART. III. LANGUAGE OF PALESTINE IN THE AGE OF CHRIST AND THE APOSTLES. An Introductory Article.—By the Editor	309
ART. IV. PREVALENCE OF THE ARAMAEAN LANGUAGE IN PALESTINE IN THE AGE OF CHRIST AND THE APOSTLES. —By Prof. Pfannkuche of Giessen. Translated by the Editor	317
ART. V. INTERPRETATION OF ROMANS VIII. 18—25.—By Prof. Stuart	363
ART. VI. LITERARY NOTICES.—By the Editor.
Zend-Avesta	407
Extract of a letter from Professor Hahn	408

NO. III.

ART. I. THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION IN GERMANY.—By the Editor.
Part III. Examinations, Ministerial Standing, etc. 409
ART. II. SIMPLICITY OF INTERPRETATION IN THE NEW TESTAMENT.—By Prof. Tittmann, of Leipsic. Translated by the Editor 452
ART. III. CAUSES OF FORCED INTERPRETATION OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.—By Prof. Tittmann, of Leipsic. Translated by the Editor 464
ART. IV. CLAIMS OF THE HEBREW LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.—By Prof. Turner, of New York.
Lecture I. 491
" II. 503
" III. 516
ART. V. PREVALENCE OF THE GREEK LANGUAGE IN PALESTINE IN THE AGE OF CHRIST AND HIS APOSTLES.—From Hug's 'Einleitung ins Neue Testament.' 530
ART. VI. LEXICOGRAPHY OF THE NEW TESTAMENT, IN A CRITIQUE ON THE LEXICONS OF WAHL AND BRETSCHNEIDER.—By Prof. Tholuck, of Halle. Translated by the Editor.
Preliminary Remarks 552
Review 554
ART. VII. INTERPRETATION OF JUDGES, CHAP. V. THE SONG OF DEBORAH AND BARAK.—By the Editor.
Introduction 568
Translation 572
Notes 579
LITERARY NOTICES 612

NO. IV.

ART. I. THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION IN GERMANY . . 613
Part IV. Directions for theological students entering the university of Halle. Published by the theological faculty. Translated by the Editor.
Preliminary Remarks . . . 613
General View of Theological Study 615
Appendix 636
ART. II. NATURE AND CHARACTER OF THE GREEK STYLE OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.—By Prof. H. Planck, of Gottingen. Translated by the Editor . . 638
Preliminary Notice 638
Introduction 640
Part I. Origin and Progress of the later Greek language . . . 650
Part. II. Characteristics of the later Greek in the New Testament . 658
ART. III. GENERAL VIEW OF THE GREEK LANGUAGE AND ITS DIALECTS. From Buttmann's Greek Grammar. Translated by the Editor . . . 692
ART. IV. GENUINENESS OF ISAIAH, CHAP. XL.—LXVI. From Hengstenberg's 'Christologie.'—Translated by the Editor . . 700
Introductory Remarks . . . 700
Objections considered . . . 705
Positive Grounds 723
ART. V. MEANING OF ΚΥΡΙΟΣ IN THE NEW TESTAMENT, PARTICULARLY AS EMPLOYED BY PAUL.—By Prof. Stuart 733
ART. VI. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE 776
From Dr Henderson to Prof. Stuart . 776
" Dr Smith to Prof. Stuart . 778
" Dr Smith to the Editor . . 779
" Prof. Lee to the Editor . . 780
Letter from Mr Lee to J. Scott, Esq. 782
INDEXES TO VOL. I. . . . 787

CORRIGENDA IN NO. I.

Page 60, l. 13 fr. bot. read sixth instead of ninth.

Page 198 at the close.—Later information enables us to state, that Freytag's Arabic Lexicon is to be completed in three parts or volumes, and that the retail price of the whole work in Germany is 20 rix dollars, or between $14 and $15, payable on the delivery of Part I.

NOTE.—The mark (°) was prefixed to the titles of several works in No. I. to denote that they are in the Library of the Theol. Seminary, Andover. This plan was afterwards abandoned.

CONTENTS

OF

No. I.

Art.		Page.
I.	Theological Education in Germany
	By the Editor.
	Introduction	1
	Part I. German Universities	7
II.	Interpretation of Psalm XVI
	By Prof. Stuart.
	Introductory Observations	51
	Translation	75
	Commentary	76
III.	Grammatico-Historical Interpretation of the Scriptures
	By Prof. Hahn, of Leipsic. Translated by the Editor.
	Introductory Notices	111
	Hahn on Interpretation	117
IV.	Remarks on Hahn's Definition of Interpretation, and some topics connected with it .	139
	By Prof. Stuart.
V.	Grammatical Accuracy of the Writers of the New Testament	160
	By Prof. Tittmann, of Leipsic. Translated by the Editor.
VI.	Theological Literature and Education in Italy	177
	By Prof. Tholuck, of Halle Translated by the Editor.

CONTENTS.

Art.		Page.
VII.	Literary Notices
	By the Editor.
	I. Literature of the Old Testament	186
	II. Literature of the New Testament	190
	III. Systematic Theology	193
	IV. Oriental Literature	194

N. B. The mark (°) is prefixed to the titles of several books, to indicate that they are in the Library of the Theological Seminary at Andover. The plan, however, has not been carried through, and will hereafter be abandoned.